The Powell House

Bernie Powell was born in Marcellus in 1855 and was educated here. While a teenager he worked for the Alvord House in charge of the livery. His next job was working for the Hooper Furniture Company and when that company moved to Fort Edward, he moved with the business.

Upon his return to Marcellus in the late 1890's, Bernie purchased the building at Main and Orange Streets and added a second story, a wing and porches. He then opened up the Powell House as a hotel and remained in business for the next sixteen years.

Bernie purchased a farm on Slate Hill Road (later owned by Tom Shay) and fixed up the buildings and property. He next purchased the house on the corner of East Hill and Slate Hill Roads. He remodeled the house, built a barn and had a well groomed property for his family. He remained in the home with his wife, Mary, and daughter, Clara, until his death in 1917.

Marcellus Falls School

The Marcellus Falls School was a small wooden building built in 1806 below the White Bridge. It was later moved to its present location on Glover Road and wings were added. Frank Lawless bought the building in 1941 for $465 and converted it into apartments. The picture on the left was taken inside the school.

From The President ...

Rain, rain, rain, I think we have had our share this year. Maybe it will mean less snow this winter. Nice thought!

We are getting ready to decorate the Steadman House for the holidays. Santa will be here on Dec. 4th from 6:30 until 8:00. Our annual Open House will be on Sat. Dec. 6th. Volunteers give many hours to decorate the house for all to enjoy. Please add a visit to the Steadman House to your holiday schedule.

The Society's Holiday Dinner will be on Dec. 14th at the Fire Station. Please bring a dish to pass. Meat, drink, and place setting provided.

We have had many visitors this year and I look forward to 2015 and welcoming more to the house.

One Hundred Years Ago in Marcellus

Marcellus Observer November 6, 1914

Dr. Sullivan Has Unusual Case

A few weeks ago Albert Brinkerhoff, on the Henry Hunt farm, East Hill, Marcellus, lost a valuable 8-year old draft mare, which proved to be a very interesting case. About three weeks previous to death the animal was taken sick with what was supposed to be a chronic attack of indigestion. After three or four days she began to be normal, but was again taken seriously ill at the end of three weeks. Dr. M. W. Sullivan of Marcellus was again called, but after nearly an all night's treatment he gave a fatal prognosis of a twist in the small intestines and she died the next day at noon. On account of the peculiarities involved in the case a post-mortem was held which proved to be of utmost importance. The twist, as had been diagnosed by the Doctor, was easily located, but an adhesion had formed between the twisted section of the bowel and the peritoneal layer of the abdomen. This adhesion contained pus, was gangrenous on the inside, and contained a piece of timothy hay two and a half inches long, which had penetrated the wall of the bowel, causing inflammation, which formed this adhesion.

Dr. Sullivan reported this case to a prominent veterinarian in Syracuse, who is a leading member of the Central New York Veterinary Society, and he has made arrangements to have this unusual case reported by Dr. Sullivan before their meeting to be held the last of this month at the St. Cloud Hotel in Syracuse. This society which Dr. Sullivan joined at the last meeting in August, was formed to protect the veterinarian's interests and is very active at present in prosecuting illegal practitioners of veterinary medicine. ~

OBSERVER--ATIONS

I'm in a fix. In other words, I'm on the fence. My wife is opposed to woman suffrage. I am in favor of it. Should I vote to give women the vote and my wife ever learn of it, I bet there would be two more candidates for the Marriage-Is-a-Failure Club.

Syracuse is still talking about grade crossing elimination. I heard the same talk fully 20 years ago. Live in hopes, Syracusans! Live in hopes!

Oh you Prohibition! You Infernal scheme to deprive me of one of my pleasures. I like my bitters, but am a moderate drinker. And I can't see why in sam hill a few people want to ram prohibition down my throat simply because there are those who drink to the limit when they get started. ~

BORDER SALOON VIGOROUSLY OPPOSED

Gleason & Tierney opened a saloon Saturday just over the Marcellus town line on a lot owned by Tierney on which they had moved an old building from its former site near the bridge. It is now about half way to the culvert, on the same, or west side of the road. They did business Saturday night and since. This is a free ad. for them.

Opposition to their license is made by C. W. Chadwick, who lives in the house near the bridge, and legal hearing was set before Justice Andrews for last Saturday at 10 A.M. Such hearings are usually held three days after serving papers, but the liquor laws are full of kinks and call for five days. Explanations offered by the attorneys are reasonable and excusable. Cregg Bros. appeared when Attorney Shinaman cited the five-day clause and the case was waived. New papers were served Thursday and hearing is set for next Wednesday, November 4, at 10 A.M.

Feeling is exceedingly strong against this establishing of a country saloon, isolated from all control or possible criticism, such as naturally governs in a neighborhood. The public is aroused and great interest is manifested among good citizens.

Marcellus Observer November 20, 1914

SALOON LICENSE REVOKED

Application for the revocation of the license to Tierney & Gleason to conduct a saloon near the border line of Camillus, Marcellus has been granted. This means that the saloon must be closed at once on the order being signed, and this has been done. ~
